

NEWMAN ASKS 50 PER CENT CUTOUT

Burley Association Head Outlines
Plan to Put Tobacco up Again

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 5. — Announcement was made Friday by John W. Newman, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association, that a meeting of the directors of the concern and of the Burley Marketing Company will be held here February 12, and he will recommend a reduction of 50 per cent in the proposed tobacco crop for this year. He said definite plans would be worked out and a campaign would be carried out peacefully and legally. He said there was no peaceful way to enforce a cutout, but that his companies would use peace in whatever they do.

"There is no lawful way to enforce a voluntary agreement among tobacco growers much less enforcing something that is not voluntary and not unanimous," he asserted. "We do not propose to try to enforce anything on the growers of burley tobacco, but we intend to attempt to create a concerted movement for at least a 50 per cent reduction of the 1921 tobacco crop."

An extended survey of the burley district, he said, indicates that such a movement will receive practically the unanimous support of all tobacco growers, both land owners and tenants, and he believed that the cool judgment of the growers will convince them that a movement will be for the best interests of the growers individually and for the tobacco industry in general.

It is not the purpose of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association to request the small grower to plant only a few acres to reduce his crop by half, it was said. "Many farmers grow only two to five acres of tobacco, and that generally is grown on land that has been rotated with other crops or that has been reclaimed from a briar patch or pawpaw thicket," Mr. Newman said. "This sort of land makes the finest grade of tobacco and the quantity is not sufficient to affect the market. This class of tobacco grower is entitled to his small money crop within any material reduction. No farmer will be asked to grow less than three acres of tobacco this year. All farmers who grew more than six acres last year will be requested to cut the crop this year to at least half of the 1920 average."

"It is the large grower, who plants from ten to several hundred acres of tobacco that we must depend upon to reduce the quantity and improve the quality of burley tobacco this year. Half the acreage on the right sort of land with proper care will produce a grade of tobacco that will sell for more than twice as much money next season as the quality of inferior grades would bring," Mr. Newman concluded.

When asked about a published statement credited to Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, of the Seventh Kentucky district, saying there is now a three-year supply of tobacco on hand, Mr. Newman said that much of this enormous surplus is a result of accumulation of low grade tobacco because of Europe's inability to absorb it.

He declared that the effect of this supply on future prices depends entirely upon the resumption of purchases of low-grade tobaccos by European countries and expressed the opinion that a reduced crop of extra quality burley tobacco can be marketed next season at prices that will be satisfactory to the owners.

The Burley Marketing Company is still receiving large quantities of low grade tobacco on the Lexington and Carrollton markets, where redryers are in operation, it was said, and many of the growers are holding low grades to be delivered to the market company later for direct sale to European buyers or to be converted into fertilizer.

PROMINENT YOUNG MEN'S COSTLY PRANK

Harrodsburg, Ky., Feb. 5.—M. J. Farris III, Henry Tevis, Hewitt Montgomery and Raymond Ingram, Danville, were each fined $100 and costs in circuit court here for their part in an occurrence here on Dry Branch pike last summer. It was claimed that a Danville party of young people drove up in a large automobile and signalled for Dr. C. P. Price, who was motoring with a young woman, to give them the road. He could not turn off at that point because of the narrow rough road and went on, intending to give them the road at a gate a little farther, and the others, misunderstanding, began to abuse him for not turning out, and fired at his machine, afterward chasing him and taking the car away, and forcing Dr. Price and the young woman to walk some distance to a nearby farm house.

EXPRESS CO. HELPS SAVE LITTLE ONES

Among the numerous agencies throughout the country co-operating with Herbert Hoover, the chairman of the European Relief Council, in his effort to raise $33,000,000 by means of a national collection for the relief of incipient starvation among 3,500,000 children in the war-stricken countries of Europe are the American Express Company and the American Railway Express Company.

Supt. Oglesby, of the local office has been notified that through the authorization of G. C. Taylor, president of both organizations, "Invisible Guest" certificates, certifying that the purchaser has salvaged the life of one or more of the little war victims, have been placed on sale at 25,000 of the company's offices throughout the United States. The cost of saving one child until the acute condition has been relieved by the next European harvest is $510, but donations of smaller sums are welcome, and a contribution of only $1 under the economical administration of the council, will keep life in a little body for a month.

"Invisible Guest" certificates, which can be purchased for any amount from $1 up, are on sale at the local express office, says Mr. Oglesby.

TO SPEAK ON ST. LOUIS CONFERENCE

The St. Louis conference on Christian Unity was beyond expectations in attendance and interest. Brought together most outstanding group of speakers ever assembled in a religious meeting in North America. Mr. Carpenter, who returned today, will bring a message from this conference to the First Christian church Sunday morning. In the evening he will take up the fifth and concluding discussion on community welfare themes, "Is the Moving Picture a Menace?"

LOOT TAKEN FROM WALTON BANK IS FOUND IN SHOES

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—Three Liberty bonds, secreted in the shoes of Camillus Terleau, arrested in Covington, Ky. last night on a vagrancy charge, will clear up the robbery of the Walton Bank and Trust Company, at Walton, Ky., December 14, according to the police. Detectives who went to Walton following the arrest, said the bonds, which were of $500, $100 and $50 denominations, were identified by the president of the bank as part of the loot taken when the safety deposit vault at the bank was opened and the entire contents of 18 boxes was stolen.

WILSON VETOES BILL TO REDUCE ARMY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 5.—President Wilson today vetoed the joint resolution directing the war department to stop army recruiting until the force is reduced to 175,000 men. The president said he is "unable to see in the condition of the world at large or in the needs of the United States" any change that would justify restriction upon the maximum enlisted strength of 280,000 men provided in the recently enacted army reorganization bill.

COURT HANDS MARTIN SEVERE EXCORIATION

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5.—George L. Martin, who pleaded guilty to embezzling funds of the German Savings Fund Company Building Association, was sentenced in the criminal court today to ten years in the penitentiary.

In passing the sentence on Martin the court said: "There is glaring insufficiency in your punishment which by no means meets the approval of this court or appeases the pitiful cry of outraged justice." He mentioned he had just sentenced a negro to three years for the theft of $300 from a wealthy corporation, while the only possible sentence for Martin was 10 years "for alleged stealing of $260,000 from defenseless widows and dependent orphans." "Such a travesty upon justice," said Judge Robinson, "is disgusting and until our laws are properly and fairly enforced and criminals like you feel the sting of the law's adequate punishment, just so long will crime like yours continue."

SEARCY MAY LAND A REAL BIG JOB

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Feb. 5.—The Post-Dispatch special today says: Chesley S. Searcy, of Louisville, will be Commissioner of Internal Revenue under President Harding's administration unless all signs fail. This indicates that the "Kentucky patronage tangle," will thus be ironed out and A. T. Hert, who, his special says, could have had a cabinet position as Secretary of Commerce but declined it, will be recognized through the appointment of Searcy to the revenue post. It asserts Searcy is a close friend of Hert.

Young's Wife Repulses Him

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Ky., Feb. 5.—Arthur L. Young, former bookkeeper of a Louisville electrical concern, charged with defalcation which the firm says may amount to $5,000, was brought back from St. Louis today. His wife refused his caresses, saying, "there are many things you have to explain." "Take me to jail," Young told the officers; "it doesn't matter what happens now."

OIL PRICES DROP

The most drastic cut ever posted in the price of Somerset crude oil, the grade produced in Kentucky, was announced Friday when oil buying agencies lowered the purchasing price 75 cents a barrel.

On the current basis of crude oil production this latest reduction represents a lowering of $6,000,000 in the annual sales value of oil produced in this state. The latest production is equal to the sum of the three previous price slashes, making a total reduction of $12,000,000 in the potential value of oil produced in this state in 1921 unless the price of crude oil recovers.

The new price on Somerset is $2.75 a barrel, while Somerset "light" is quoted at $3 per barrel. These quotations are the lowest since late in 1919 and represent a decline of $1.50 from the peak prices which held practically thru out 1920.

All other grades of crude oil were reduced again, but not to the extent of the slash in the Somerset grade price.

Slackened refinery operations and smaller domestic and export trade in refined products are held responsible for the drop in crude oil prices. Refinery men say the price may go lower, but expect some recovery when the summer demand develops.

Somerset light sold for $2.95 a barrel four years ago.

JURY DISMISSED, STANDING 11 TO 1

Winnes to Be Tried Again in April—Sole Juror for Conviction Uncle of Guard

Harlan, Ky., Feb. 5.—Never having been able to reach a decision, the jury trying the case of Dr. H. C. Winnes, charged with the murder on September 7th, of Miss Lura Parsons, a teacher in the Pine Mountain Settlement School, was dismissed by Circuit Judge W. T. Davis, Friday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock.

Dr. Winnes was released on $5,000 bond, reduced from $10,000 which was demanded before the trial. He, with his wife and daughters, who were with him during the entire trial, left for Cincinnati, declaring he was sorry he had to come back, but that he was confident he will be acquitted at the April term of the Harlan circuit court when another trial will be held.

Judge Davis called the jury in earlier and talked with the members for half an hour urging they come to a decision. Members of the jury declared it was not possible for a decision to be reached as the body was hopelessly hung, eleven for acquittal and one for conviction. Judge Davis sent the jury back to its room with instructions to make one more effort to reach an agreement. This was the second time since the jury took the case that it was addressed in this tenor by Judge Davis.

That the jury had stood as it was at the time of dismissal, eleven for acquittal and one for conviction, was the statement of foreman, G. A. Smith, after the jurors had been dismissed. That the indictment against Dr. Winnes be dismissed, was asked by Judge Hall, counsel for the defense, immediately following the dismissal. A. Floyd Byrd, of Lexington, special attorney retained for the prosecution, entered an objection and the case was continued to the next term of circuit court, being docketed for April 15.

It developed following dismissal of the jury, that during the morning, Moses Brewer, the juror who had consistently held out for conviction, became angry when fellow jurors attempted to argue with him and drew a knife.

He was disarmed before any one was wounded. Henry Creech, a nephew of Mr. Brewer's, was, it is said, a guard at the convict camp near Dillon.

A deputy sheriff burst into the room and stopped the altercation after the noise was heard outside.

The court has just finished cautioning the jurors against allowing personal feeling to enter into their deliberations. The ill feeling, it was said, was considered in dismissal of the jury.

D. C. Jones, counsel for Dr. Winnes, said after the trial that he will try to prove that one of the jurors stated that he went on the jury for the purpose of hanging Winnes. He stated further that he will ask the governor for an investigation of the prison camps.

Brewer, who held out for conviction against the other eleven members of the jury, said that Winnes' conversation in coming over the mountain was what fixed him in his mind as the guilty man.

The jury trying Dr. Winnes served for more than 88 hours continuously, receiving the case at 10 o'clock Monday night and not being dismissed until 2 p. m. Friday. Four times the body reported to Judge Davis that it was unable to reach a verdict and desired to be dismissed, but he refused. Throughout the case he insisted on a decision, urging on the jurors the importance of a verdict.

C. A. Smith, a banker of Evans, Ky., who was elected foreman of the jury, reported to the court that on the first ballot Monday night they stood 10 to 2 for acquittal. On the next ballot the following morning they stood 11 to 1 and remained that way since.

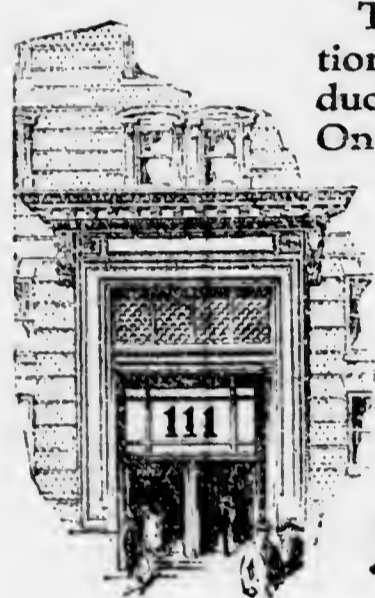

The first act of the jury on retiring to consider the evidence was to bow their heads in prayer. Mr. Smith said, and ask Divine guidance in reaching a conclusion.

Moses Brewer, the aged juror holding out for conviction, consistently refused to enter into any discussion of the evidence. Foreman Smith said, and during the last two or three days had little to say to the other jurors.

Brewer left the court house with Mrs. Ethel Zande, head of the Pine Mountain Settlement School, who aided the prosecution.

A. Where property was purchased prior to March 1913 the determination of profit is based on the market value on that date. As there was no change in the market value of these lots between February and July 1913 it may be presumed that the fair market value on March 1, 1913 was the same amount. In computing profit the amount of $250, original cost of lot, should be increased to $320, for the

HEALTH FOR WORKING GIRLS

Those Who Suffer and Are Unable to Work Need Helpful Suggestions

Springfield, Ill.—"I had periodic trouble with weakness, cramps and backache and I could not work. A neighbor recommended your medicine and I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now strong and well, able to work, and recommend your medicine to my friends."—ANNA RIMKUS, R. R. No. 8, Springfield, Ill.

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rimkus did when case after case is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health. For more than forty years this old fashioned root and herb medicine has been the standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, in regard to your health.

IN THE MOVIES

To what extent will a woman go to save the man she loves from peril of death?

This intensely interesting problem is given a fascinating revival in the fourth episode of "Fighting Fate," the latest Vitagraph serial, with Wm. Duncan and Edith Johnson, which will be presented at the Opera House tonight.

Duncan, as Kern Lambert, is in the power of the Black Circle gang and is about to be fed to wild animals. His sweetheart is told that she can save him by consenting to become the bride of the gang leader. Her decision and what follows immediately, forms one of the most thrilling chapters ever depicted on the screen.

The appearance of John Barrymore in the screen version of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" which will be shown at the local theatres Tuesday, has proven an event in the dramatic world as momentous as was the performance of Richard Mansfield in the stage play adapted from Stevenson's famous story.

Mr. Mansfield created a sensation in the theatrical world with the dual character in 1887. At the invitation of Sir Henry Irving, he took the production to London, and there duplicated the success he had scored in America. Mr. Mansfield continued to appear in frequent revivals of "Dr.

Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," until the time of his death.

Mr. Barrymore's characterization of the young physician is a most remarkable and subtle piece of work. It is as good as anything this talented star, hailed by many as the greatest actor on the American stage, has ever done, and it is easily the equal of if not superior to Mr. Mansfield's performance.

FORD PRICES HAVE REACHED BOTTOM

Says Edsell Ford, President of the Great Ford Motor Co.—Car Prices May Advance Soon

Mr. Edsell B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"The price of the Fordson Tractor has been reduced from $790 to $625, effective immediately.

"This price change has been made possible through lower cost of materials and the fact that we are now located in our new tractor plant with greatly increased economic manufacturing facilities in immediate connection with our foundry and machine shops and large blast furnaces where iron is poured directly from the ore giving us maximum efficiency with the power to reduce cost of production, and down comes the price in line with our policy to market our products at the lowest possible figure without in any way affecting our high standard of quality.

"We are particularly pleased to be able to bring about this big reduction in price at this time because the farmer needs all the help we can give him and this big cut in price will be the means of placing a valuable power unit in the reach of practically every one of them, not to mention industrial and commercial concerns which likewise have benefited through its use and are already realizing, to a much greater extent, its value as a power and hauling unit. But particularly has the Fordson Tractor proved a most valuable factor in the saving of farm labor, at the same time increasing the per acre crop yield as well as making possible a utilization of previously uncultivated land, to say nothing of removing no end of drudgery.

"There is no question that the use of machine power on the farm is the greatest advancement in the development of agriculture, not only in money saving and money making results, as well as raising the standards of living on the farm to a much higher level, but because of its proved value in making every type of soil productive, and consequently our desire to place the Fordson within the reach of all.

"There is no change in the present Ford car and truck prices, which are already at the lowest possible figure and now with rock bottom reached on the tractor price a further reduction in price of either the car, truck or tractor is out of the question; in fact the price cuts have been made in anticipation of continuous maximum production and increase may be necessary before long if a large volume of new business is not obtained. Therefore, present prices of Ford products cannot be guaranteed against possible increase."

Oklahoma Farmer Gives Sound Advice on Avoiding Sickness—Used Black-Draught 30 Years.

Cameron, Okla.—"I have used Theodor's Black-Draught for about thirty years, and certainly ought to know by this time what a good medicine it is," says Mr. T. L. Bostler, a well-known farmer of this place. Mr. Bostler has passed his three-score-and-tenth year, but declares his health still is good, "and I can say Black-Draught did its part."

"Where there is a lot of malaria, a liver medicine is a necessity, and I have never found one better than Black-Draught," continues the Oklahoman. "It is one that I know to be reliable. I sure use it for the liver, stomach, constipation, indigestion, and it has done me a world of good. We use it for the family, and it gives satisfaction."

"Most trouble, or sickness, comes from the liver, and if taken in time can be avoided. That is why I use Black-Draught as I do. I am much pleased with results obtained."

Theodor's Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It acts on the bowels, gently stimulating the liver, and helps increase the normal flow of bile into the intestines. It assists in the digestion of food, and relieves constipation in a prompt and natural way.

Ask your druggist for a package today. Insist on Theodor's. NO-139

FIND CURIOUS RACE IN MEXICO

Tribe Numbering 20,000 Is Said to Be Descended From the Germans.

OPPOSITE TRUE, SAY NATIVES

They Tell Berlin Ethnologist That the Germans Are Descended From Them—Worship Old Gods and Offer Up Sacrifices.

Monterey, Mex.—It is a fact not generally known even to many ethnologists that there is a tribe or nation of about 20,000 people in Mexico who are said to be descendants of the Germans. According to the legends of these aborigines, however, the Germans are descendants of the Miscoes, which is the name of the tribe. They inhabit several districts of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. An investigation of the Miscoes was made some years ago by Dr. William Bauer, a noted ethnologist of Berlin. He lived for several years among the different Indian tribes of Mexico and studied their history, habits and customs.

"The Miscoes are rather low in stature, and besides this they are somewhat deformed," said Doctor Bauer on the occasion of his recent visit to Monterey. "The hips are broad, the faces flat and their movements are very awkward. Their hair is black, falling over their shoulders. The men wear their hair as did the Spanish priests, with shaven crown and as long as possible on the sides. They are conservative in their customs, manners of living, and, above all, their language. This is still extraordinarily pure, although very hard to learn and disagreeable to hear."

"Some of these people are fair-haired and have a light skin. For this reason they were said to be the descendants of the Germans. In nearly every Mexican history is found this tale, but when I asked them of their origin, they said that they were aborigines of this country. Several of the more intelligent said that, on the contrary, the Germans were descendants of the Miscoes."

Worship Their Old Gods.

"Like all other tribes they are very superstitious. They still worship their old gods and offer them up to this day sacrifices in the fields, on the hills and on the rivers. I visited several places where I found the remains of sacrifices, such as fowls, small dogs, bread, chocolate, eggs and fruit. Certain villages have their idols hidden in places known only to the oldest men of the tribe."

"But the most interesting of the tribes in Mexico are the Zapotecs, who are at present situated in nearly the whole south of the country and especially in the State of Oaxaca. They number about 300,000 people. These people are strong, of large proportions physically, are very handsome, generally good laborers, and intelligent. They live in small straw huts, each having one room."

"If any nation of Indians in Mexico has a social and political future it will be the nation of Zapotecs. Benito Juarez, the famous Mexican reformer, was a Zapotecan and was born in Zuelotao, near Tatlán, in the mountains of Oaxaca."

"The question of the Mazatecos tribe is one of the most interesting and difficult problems. I find that, for instance, when questioned, they say that in olden times they came from the North, but they were unable to tell from what part of the great North they first marched. They have legends which are to the effect that they passed over the Colorado river and when they came to Mexico City they settled first in the state of Vera Cruz, where they had repeated battles with the Aztecs, the founders of Mexico City. In these battles the Mazatecos were driven over toward the eastern coast in the state of Vera Cruz. This country has been held by the once powerful nation until this day."

They Are Wary of Strangers.

"It is difficult for a stranger to travel through their country owing to their extremely superstitious and suspicious ideas. They worship idols, but these they keep hidden, and new ones are made each year. This nation in particular has one old custom in connection with its idols. The shell of an egg is taken and, being broken into seven pieces, it is wrapped in seven pieces of cotton cloth. Along with this are seven pieces of bark, red and blue feathers, and seven grains of corn. These charms, bound together, are placed one at each corner of every person's tract of land. This will assure a bountiful harvest and will also secure the Indians from injury from personal enemies."

"There are seven gods worshipped, and the eagle, tiger, crocodile, parrot, and serpent are among them. The five animals are worshipped, and the images made are buried, as the people of the tribe are ashamed to have strangers know of this form of worship. I was shown a number of the altars upon which sacrifices to the seven gods were offered. Every village has the seven gods, but each village has in addition one as a special god. It is said in Ochiehota that in the church there is a trapped serpent and this is the chief god of the village. The people who constitute the nation have a reverence for the serpent, and it is not shown toward any of the gods."

THE MODEL GUEST

"MY COUSIN James is coming to spend a week," announced the landlady, "and I can't say I'm overjoyed. He's the most unsatisfactory visitor I ever saw. You can hardly get a word out of him. He isn't a bit like his brother Jeremiah, who is full of fun, and the best company imaginable. "Your remarks show how little true greatness is appreciated in a moral family boarding house, where the damages are collected in advance," observed the star boarder. "In my opinion, James is a household with a charming bride to pour the imitation coffee, and a vine and figtree in a jardiniere, I'd send a special delivery letter to James, asking him to come and stay for ten years or more.

"There's something restful and soothing about that gifted man. He never bothers anybody. No one has to waste precious moments entertaining him. It isn't necessary to discuss the weather predictions, or dig up a lot of statistics about the crops. In order to make James have a good time, you don't have to show him the old plush photograph album, and describe the ancestry of the melancholy effigies whose pictures appear therein. Nearly all visitors are bores, my dear Mrs. Jiggers, because they have to be entertained. Somebody has to sit up with them and thrash out last year's gossip. They have no initiative or referendum. They have no resources of their own. In order to have a pleasant visit, they need help.

"Your cousin James is a man after my own heart. I remember his last visit quite well. He came in the evening, and after supper he took a chair on the porch. Knowing he was a guest, I felt it my duty to entertain him in the conventional way. I dragged my chair close up to his and remarked that it was a pleasant evening, but the presence of a cloud bank in the northwest almost convinced me that there would be rain within twelve hours, in which case, I proceeded, there would be much jubilation among the honest old farmers, whose crops were suffering for moisture.

"James listened to my remarks and then looked at me, in a sad, reproachful way, as though he thought it a shameful thing that imbeciles should be at large, and then he took his chair to the opposite end of the porch without having said a word. I must confess that I felt like a counterfeit knock for a few minutes, but the more I considered the matter, the more I admired and respected that remarkable man.

"He used to go downtown every morning and buy a paper backed novel, or a fiction magazine, and then he'd read it all day, and when he was done with his literature he left it where the boarders could get it. I didn't hear him say ten words during his visit, yet you say, Mrs. Jiggers, that he is an unsatisfactory guest. Elderly landladies, whose intellects have been warped by long years of parsimony, are hard to please.

"Jeremiah, whom you describe as jolly and agreeable, should be suppressed. He has collected all the old cheese stories ever manufactured, and insists upon telling them. He has a horrible habit of making puns, and considers himself a humorist, because of it. You couldn't bribe him to sit down with a book or magazine and behave himself. He has to be entertained every minute of his time, and the only way you can entertain him is by letting him do the entertaining. "He is a genial old fellow who thinks he is a privileged character, and everybody's pet. The last time he was here he went into my sumptuous apartment and used my razor to shave the southeast quarter section of his countenance. His whiskers are full of barbed wire, and the razor was ruined. When I spoke to him about it he thought it funny. Yet you refer to such a man as an agreeable visitor. I blush for you, Mrs. Jiggers."

In Moderation.

"Would you advise a candidate to stay on his front porch?" "Yes," answered Senator Sorghum; "but only part of the time; just long enough to take care of his voice and get together a good bunch of speeches for delivery on tour."

Just It.

"I thought you said you had a fine ending to your automobile trip." "So I had." "Your chauffeur told me you were arrested for speeding." "Well, wouldn't you call a windup in the police court a fine ending?"

Weighted With a Watch.

The watch of Charles V, which was one of the earliest of these time-pieces, weighed twenty-seven pounds. It was a good deal like a clock of the present day.
